From El Presidente:

The 36th Annual Get the "Dust-Off" Rallye was held on Sunday, May 4th, 2025. The Rallye started and finish at the Dejon Vineyards, in Hydes, MD. A special thanks goes out to both Eric Salminen and Chris Horant for mapping out the rallye. Also, thanks to Dejon Vineyards for making their wine tasting area available to us. Look for a list of winners and more in this issue of the Octagram.

For those of you that are unaware, the "Get the Dust-Off" Rallye is the first leg of two in the competition for the Lord Baltimore Cup. The TRAC Fall Foliage Run is the second leg. The current holder of this traveling trophy is the TRAC Club (Triumphs Around the Chesapeake), but MGOB wants it back, we narrowly missed it in 2024, 2025 is going to be a better year for MGOB. Looking forward to bringing home the Lord Baltimore Cup again.

An enormous shout-out goes to Larry & Barb hosting the Annual "MGOB TECH SESSION" at their home on Saturday, May 10, I showed up late and still managed to get my MGB on the lift. Based on what I was told about, twenty members of the club showed up to have Chris Horant & Alan Tucker place their hands on your ailing car and make recommendations of what you can do to make it better. I can say that there was an ample supply of donuts and coffee.

The LEL (League of Extraordinary Loafers) went to the Boyertown Transportation Museum on May 21. We had the following members take part: Richard Liddick, Tracy Trobridge, Bill Fiege, Tony Philips, John Ellis, Bob & Kathy Grier, and I might be missing someone, but we all had a good time.

The Keystone British Car Club will have their 31st Annual British Motorcar Gathering event on Sunday, June 8th, 2025, at Hellertown, PA. It's a bit of a drive but, well worth it. Nice show set in the trees.

The St Georges Society of Baltimore has once again invited the MGs of Baltimore, Ltd. Car Club to participate in their annual polo match. The match is scheduled for Sunday, June 29th, 2025, at the Maryland Polo Club in Jarrettsville, MD. Tickets include finger food, summer cocktails and the match. We were offered eight cars at ½ price or sixteen people. Unfortunately, these spots are no longer available, but there are full-price tickets available at $65.00 per person. Look for more info to follow.

The Central Pennsylvania British Car Club will be holding their 31st Annual British Car Festival on the weekend of August 23-24 in Altoona, PA. This is a great time. For more info checkout their website at:

<https://storage.googleapis.com/production-ipage-v1-0-4/984/1398984/M0dtJM10/212f3d6a823d4e23a257c80fc9b30f7?fileName=British%20Car%20Club%20Flyer%202025%20pdf%201.pdf>

LANCO's Annual Taste of Britian gathering will be moving to a new location this year, after the club had an issue with the Polo Club over the fees charged. Once I have a copy of the new event flier, I will get the word out. This gathering has been a good, low-key event for many years and I am hoping the new location will work out even better for the LANCO's Club.

Safety Fast!

Editor's Notes...

Welcome to the June edition of the OCTAGRAM newsletter!

We've had a busy May here in the club and it looks like the 2025 season is off to a great start. Several events gave everyone a chance to shake off the winter doldrums. The 36th Get the DUST-OFF Rally was run on a damp and gray Sunday May 4. (You can read Richard's summary, complete with a list of class winners, below.) There were a few brave and hearty souls who brought their trusty British steeds to rally. Most of us, however, chose to drive our "civilian vehicles." (You know...working demister, variable wipers, no leaky top bow, happy navigator, etc.) A big club "thank you" to Rally organizers Chris and Eric for putting in the countless hours to make "The Dust-Off" a success and to give us all fun time.

Saturday May 10th many club members and their cars over at Larry and Barb Heeps' place for the MGoB Tech Session. Luckily that day was blessed with clear skies and sunshine. Lots of club members brought their MGs. Larry, Chris, Alan, and others helped club members sort out various issues, tune carbs, and inspect their vehicles. Tales were swapped, donuts were eaten, and everyone had a good time. Many thanks to Larry for and Barb, for their hospitality.

Unfortunately, my MGB was not one of the many parked on The Heep's front lawn. No, my car was back home with its cylinder head off, suffering from a bad case of broken head stud-itis. Yes, dear reader, your humble editor had neglected to heed the wisdom of The Grandfather Rule – "If it ain't broke, don't 'fix' it!" The next time I adjust valve-lash, I'm going to ignore Mr. Twist's suggestion to, "always retorque the head, before you adjust the valves." Luckily, all it took was a couple of afternoons work, a very expensive set of ARP studs, and a new head gasket and the B is back on the road.

And just in time, because Saturday marks the beginning of the 29th Annual British Car Week – May 31 to June 8. BCW is an annual awareness week intended for owners of classic British cars to get their cars out of the garage and drive them. This is intended to help create awareness of these great old vehicles and of the classic British car hobby in local communities. More information and a link to the Peter Egan article "Seldom Seen Cars" can be found at www.britishcarweek.org.

Hope to see you out on the road and drive safe!

36th Annual Running of the “Get the Dust-Off” Rallye

On Sunday, May 4th the MGs of Baltimore, Ltd. Car Club held their annual “Get the Dust-Off” Rallye. The event started at DeJon Vinyards located in Hydes, Md. and ended at the same location after travelling through the back roads of Baltimore, Harford, and York Counties for approximately sixty miles. The rallye was initially planned to have two classes, an historic class and a modern class, but since we had a bit of rain and a lot of those that would have driven their classic MG or other classic choose to leave them in a dry garage and bring their everyday driver. Despite the weather, we had thirty-four cars take part in the run.

While the scores were being tallied, the participants could take part in wine tastings offered by the folks at DeJon Vinyards, listen to live music provided by the winery all the while, the rallye crew was calling out door prize numbers. Food was available from a local vendor selling nachos, wraps and pulled pork. One final thing, a video showing all answers to the rallye questions was running so that the participants could check where they missed the correct answer or why they lost points.

2025 Get the Dust-Off Rallye Results

Class

Classic/Historic

Finish	Car	Score	Driver/Navigator
1	14	93	Austin Reitz / Morgan Reitz
2	32	134	Aaron Meisner/Jessica Kohner
3	16	171	Sergio Zarbin/Dennis Blevins

Modern

1	23	43	Samantha Stimpler
2	28	50	Ed Kirk/Mary Kirk
3	20	60	Gary Woizesko/Debbie Woizesko

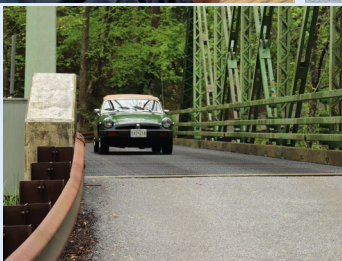

“Left My Classic at Home”

1	7	74	Chris Zingone/ Kristen Kraus
2	13	93	Eric Reitz/Cheryl Reitz
3	25	104	Douglas McCoach/Dustin Dubrevil

The “Get the Dust-Off” Rallye is the first leg of the Mason-Dixon Challenge Cup, a competitive trophy that travels between the MGs of Baltimore, Ltd Car Club and TRAC (Triumphs Around the Chesapeake) but really is open to any car club that takes part and wins the majority of points in both the TRAC’s Fall Poker Run and MGOB’s Spring “Get the Dust-Off” Rallye. TRAC is the current holder of the Lord Baltimore Cup, but that could all change after the Fall Poker Run, which is held in October, each year.

EXHAUST NOTE

Unless you've been living in a cave, you may have heard more exhaust gas coming out of D.C. concerning the barriers to entry for American car brands selling into other country's markets. As you know, these Notes always try to be cutting edge and timely. (NOT) I recently got an opportunity to give you at least a one country view on this issue. This information is based only on my observations.

Viv La France! CJ and I finally succumbed to the constant mailings, internet and TV advertisements of Viking Cruise Lines and took a cruise. (Yes, they are as good as they advertise. You won't be disappointed.) Carole and I traveled the world in our working lives so most of the cruises didn't appeal to us, but a cruise to the wine country in France; please fill my glass. This cruise enabled me to observe car trends in both cities and small towns and provided me with the exhausting thoughts I'll now share with you.

Did I say small towns; these come along with really small roads. I can't say this enough, I mean SMALL ROADS.

Viking made sure we traveled to the best vineyards in Bordeaux. This travel was accomplished using the nicest BIG bus I've ever seen. The drivers of these were so good, because I can't figure out how these huge busses got down what were barely a one lane roads. They did it well because no bus had even a scratch on it. Perhaps these roads in the country and the narrow city streets leads me to my first observation.

News flash, the SUV is NOT the dominate model type adopted by the French public. Yes, there are SUVs, but the numbers are small, their size is smaller, and the French marques don't seem to make them. Yes, the sedan is the preferred model. Narrow roads and minuscule parking availability certainly drive this trend.

Do the French buy French, "Certain Moi"! Renault, Citroen, Peugeot dominate what I saw on the roads. What was missing was also curious; VW, Mercedes, Toyota were not that noticeable. (Except for Toyota pickups which seem to rule the world.) American brands were rarely seen, and what I saw were a small were small Ford vans. I wonder how this nationalistic buying plays out in other markets. I guess cj and I will need to do more cruising to do more research in other countries.

Electric Everything: I'm really talking about city dwellers here, but some in the country too. I'm not talking cars though, even though Elon's products are everywhere. (The Tesla model Y is the best selling car worldwide.) Here I'm talking about E bikes, scooters, skateboards and some things I couldn't even describe. As you would expect in Europe there were traditional bicycles, but perhaps 50% were saying why peddle and sweat when I can just press go. Parking in the cities again probably driving this trend.

Surprise of the trip was the Hyundai group. When you looked at SUVs Kia and Hyundai were the ones I saw everywhere. So, is there room for Chev'rolet? I fear not. Note that we experienced zero anti-American attitude in any of our social encounters. In fact, everyone was exceedingly polite. (They even understood my rudimentary French language skills.) I just don't think there's a fit for Chevy and the others. Chevy does make a small car, but they haven't put much effort into it. (Do you know someone who has one and is happy?) Face it, Americans like bigger vehicles and predominately SUVs. This does not fit the French market. And probably French pride has something to do with this, probably you'll find this in other countries too. Gee I wonder what the best selling car in Japan is?

I don't want to leave you with just my wine-soaked impressions, so I asked my new favorite AI agent Grok for the true breakdown: (Grok is the best agent I've used so far; yes, Elon owns this too.)

Based on the most recent data available for the French car market in 2025, specifically for April (from the Plateforme de la Filière Automobile, PFA), the market shares of major car manufacturers for new passenger car registrations are as follows:

- Renault Group: 28.2%
- Stellantis Group: 24.4%
- Volkswagen Group: 14.6%
- Toyota Group: 8.3%
- Hyundai Group: 5.3%
- BMW Group: 5.1%
- Daimler Group: 3.3%

So, there you have it, not that you really gave a hoot about the French car market. Sorry if you thought Chevy was going to have a great new market for Cameros (Oh wait, Chevy killed that model along with the Bolt and Volt)

Yes, I actually saw ONE LBC on my trip. Feel good, it was an MGB!

Electrify Update: I just read a WSJ article covering a new hire by GM, he was formerly a lead at Tesla. Together they are developing a new battery type. LMR batteries (of course we needed a new acronym) use lithium but much less nickel, cobalt and other unobtainium materials. Instead, these batteries use manganese, which is not rare at all. (I hadn't heard about manganese since Carl schooled Ty Webb on it in Caddy Shack!)

Exhausted now; excepted for congratulating Larry Heaps for a most successful Tech Session! Larry is the kind of ACTIVE member that makes MGOB so cool. Now, enjoy listening to the tune that I embedded in the title.

More than 200 vintage British sports cars will be on display when the British Motorcar Gathering is staged at Hellertown's Reservoir Park, just south of Bethlehem in eastern Pennsylvania's Lehigh Valley.

The annual show features finely restored MGs, Triumphs, Jaguars, Austin-Healeys, Morgans and Minis from every mid-Atlantic state. Classic British sports cars and sedans dating from the 1930s to present day will be displayed in a wooded setting, with separate areas for each make of car.

All makes of British cars and motorcycles, old and new, are welcome.

SPECIAL AWARDS will be presented by our panel of judges. (No popular vote judging — come to the show, enjoy the cars, and relax!) Cars will be parked in classes, based on pre-registration.

The field opens at 9 a.m., the show opens to spectators at 10 a.m. Catered food and drinks are available in a large picnic pavilion — Breakfast sandwiches and coffee in the morning, then excellent cooked sandwiches at lunch time. Or bring your own picnic, with music provided by our DJ all day.

The British Motorcar Gathering will be held RAIN OR SHINE, with no rain date.
